- I – If you are already registered on the website (pre-activated account)
 - II – If you are not yet registered on the website

Part 1 – How editing your work and make it clearer to be published

I. General Form Instructions

- Manuscripts must be written in English and begin with a title page. Authors should indicate their functions. Authors agree to submit an article for which they are the author and not previously published in another publication.
- The realization of the book will involve inclusion of a large number of writers. In order to respect the timeline, please, note and respect the submission deadlines (including figures, images, tables, etc). In order to guarantee the quality of the book, please review your papers seriously.
- Article must be between 30,000 and 90,000 characters (including spaces).
- Do not use “etc.,” “e.g” or “i.e” anywhere. Please spell these words out as “and so on” or “and the like,” “for example,” and “namely” or “that is” when it is possible.

The content must respect the model below:

- General layout:

Margins 2,5 top, bottom, left et right (« margins large » in Word). Do not use color in your document except those provided in the layout model of the titles

- Articles font:

Normal paragraph:

Garamond 12, Line spacing 1, justified.

Footnotes:

Garamond 9, Line spacing 1, justified.

- Is it compulsory that the plan of the publications respect the following structure (nb : this structure is usually automatic if you respect the use of the model provided by IMODEV):

TITLE OF YOUR ARTICLE	Garamond – 18, Bold, Small caps, center, color RGB (0,50,148)	Title
§ 1 - TITLE	Garamond – 12, Bold, Small caps, color RGB (0,50,148)	Title 1
A) Chapter	Garamond – 12, Bold, color RGB (0,50,148) + 1 cm withdrawal	Title 2
1) Subchapter	Garamond – 12, Bold Italic, color RGB (0,50,148) + 1 cm withdrawal	Title 3

In all matters:

- Do not use tabulation or double spacing.
- Do not use paragraph. The text has to be justified. Do not create columns.
- No line break between paragraphs.
- Do not add numbering other than those offered by the publication plan (do not number the paragraphs).
- Please check to use international ISO A4 system instead of the American Letter system.
- Always mark italicized words in italic. Latin phrases have to be italicized.

Materials requirements:

- Manuscripts should be submitted in Microsoft Word (.doc or .docx).
- For your information, Imodev Editions use InDesign as our main software. That means that we will convert your text from .doc/docx to idml.
- Save the file with your name in the file name and the version.

For instance:

- If your name is Benjamin Franklin and that the document sent is the first version (before the review process for instance), mention FranklinV1. So, your file will be saved as “FranklinV1.docx”.
- If your name is George Washington, and that the document sent is the second version (after the review process for instance), mention WashingtonV2. So, your file will be saved as “WashingtonV2.docx”.
- If your name is Thomas Jefferson, and it is the final version of your document (after the review for instance), mention JeffersonVFinal. So, your file will be saved as “JeffersonVFinal.docx”.

Your name	Version	Mention in the File name:	Your document is save like that:
Benjamin Franklin	First Version	FranklinV1	FranklinV1.docx
George Washington	Second version (after the review process)	WashingtonV2	WashingtonV2.docx
Thomas Jefferson	Final version	JeffersonVFinal	JeffersonVFinal.docx

II. General Instructions About Text

- Do not use the cut function words at the end of line.

Thank you not to use this function, which can be confused with the hyphen and posing layout problems in reprocessing file.

- Use the Anglo-Saxon quotation marks:

Please use the simple English quotation marks ‘...’.

Quotation from other works, cases and so on must be faithful to the original.

Quotations within short quotations take double quotation mark “...”.

Punctuations follows the closing quotation mark don’t take a space.

There is no space between the quotation and the quotations marks.

Correct	Incorrect
According to Article 2 of the European Convention on Human Rights, “Everyone’s right to life shall be protected by law.”	According to Article 2 of the European Convention on Human Rights, French, ‘Everyone’s right to life shall be protected by law.’ or According to Article 2 of the European Convention on Human Rights, « Everyone’s right to life shall be protected by law »

- Do not use bold and underlined functions

Bold is restricted to titles.

Underlined function should be replaced by Italic function. The use of the Italic function in this regard must be measured, this function is used to highlight information, abuse can lose the utility of it.

- The use of quotes

- Quotes must be encoded in Roman between quotation marks, that is to said you cannot use Arabian, Hebrew, Chinese, Japenese, Russian, etc., directly. You have to translate it into English, and if you want, to deliver the original version in footnotes. Do not use both them and italics.
- When a cut is made in a quote, it must be marked like [...].
Example: « Lorem ipsum dolor si amet, [...] adispiscing elit ».
Note that the point is set after the quotation mark.
- Quotations should be maximum 3 lines.

- Et cetera

The correct form is « etc. », As it has been previously asked before, try to find an other way than to use et cetera in your text.

If the « etc. » is at the end of a phrase, the point the end point.

If the « etc. » is at the middle of a phrase, it will be followed by a punctuation mark.

- The use of the ordinal numbers

Thank you to respect the general rule regarding the ordinal numbers in English. The letters following the number should not be superscripted.

I.e.: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th...

- Numbers/No.

Please make sure to use the correct form for No. (do not use ‘N’ but ‘No.’).

Do not muddle the digit 0 and the letter O. (do not write ‘100.000’ but ‘100.000’) – By the way, please write your number according English rules (use the point to distinguish the thousands, and the comma to express the decimals. (ex: 1.000.000,00)

- Dates

Do not abbreviate dates in text: November 8, 2013, not Nov. 8, '13.

To write the date, you have the option between: Month number, year OR number Month, year.

Please use only one version in your document in order to make the read easier.

- "See" use in quotations.

When you use "See" in order to quote, it should be in italics.

Example: See President Abraham Lincoln, The Gettysburg Address, Address delivered at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, on November 19, 1863

III. Particularisms About Names

We mention the following rules, especially for Authors from non-English speaking countries.

A) Capitalization

- The first letter of all words in titles and headings, except articles (a, an, the), short prepositions (in, on, of), and conjunctions (and, but, for, nor, or, so, and yet) are written in upper-case. Short prepositions, conjunctions and articles should be written in lower case. However, subordinating conjunctions (as, because, that) should be capitalized.

For example:

Transparency in the Open Government Era
Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen
Letter of Intent
Memorandum on Transparency and Open Government

- The first word of a sentence, but also the first letter of the word of a sentence within a sentence should be capitalized (even if it is not within quotation marks).

The Professor said, "Student should attend to this conference."
The issue was, Will he come back after his resignation?

The same rule applies for:

- Proper names of persons, places, and things.

Paris
Golden Gate Bridge
The Nobel Laureates deliver their speech during the Nobel Prize ceremony
The Statue of Liberty
Barack Obama is the current President of the United States

- All academic, civil, military and religious titles, or professional ranks that are before a name

President Clinton
Doctor Howard
Professor Howard
Father Howard
Justice of the Court Daniel Howard
Managing Director Daniel Howard

- Conversely, do not capitalize titles when they are used generically, that is to say, without the name.

For example: The presidents of those countries are going to meet today.

- All government titles or titles of nobility that refer to definite persons.

For example:
the President of the Republic
the Prime Minister

the Minister of State
the Prince of Monaco
the King of Spain

- Academic degrees

Matthew Ollivan, Ph.D.
Franck Thomas, Master of Law

- Days of the week, months of the year, and holidays.

This year, Easter holidays will begin the second Wednesday in April.

- Historical periods

The Vietnam War.

- The names of members of groups (national, political, religious, racial, social, sport).

The Conservative Party or the Democratic Party
The Rugby Six Nations Championship or the Football World Cup
Elm Park Pool's swim team lost a hard battle by 10 points against Fairview Pool last Sunday.

- Compass directions, but only when referring to a region or a place

He is native from North America.
However, directions are in lower case when used generically:
The USA is south of Canada.

- Adjectives related to countries

Please note that the adjectives related to countries are capitalized.
Ex:
a French wine
an English pub

- Proper names

Proper names always are capitalized

- The President Vladimir Poutine

The presidential function, the official titles are capitalized.

- The Queen has a special relationship with the Prime Minister.

B) Other rules

- The use of official titles must be complete

Ex: President Reagan, Doctor Bell, Father Howard, Chief Minister of Justice Howard...

- Foreign words

Italicize foreign words and phrases, but not quotations: please provide a translation immediately afterwards in brackets (or in a footnote).

- Latin words

Latin words are accepted in the text if they are common in English. They have to be italicized.

- Ultra vires, stare decisis, orbiter dita, a priori...

Correct	False
Via	Via
Id	Id
No 1989839	N°02938
A French wine	A french wine
The French President	The french president
The President Reagan was the 40th President of the United States of America.	The president Reagan was the 40th President of the United States of America.

IV. The Use of Footnotes

A. Generalities

- The notes are located in the proper-page and are called in the text under the form of a number: 1, 2, 3, etc.
- The numbering of the notes does not restart at each page but continue through the pages. Please use the footnote function and not the endnote function!
- Location of the number referring to the footnote on page:
 - If placed after a quotation: must be between the closing quotation mark and punctuation, there should be no space between them.
Ex: 'A fool thinks himself to be wise, but a wise man knows himself to be a fool'¹.
 - If placed after something else than a quotation: must be adhered directly to the word that precedes.
Ex: Georges III was King of Great Britain and Ireland from 1760 to 1801¹.

Keep in minds:

Correct	False
“All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.” ¹	“All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.” ¹ ”
Freedom of information legislation followed from the early 1980s ¹ .	Freedom of information legislation followed from the early 1980s. ¹
relating to removal and detention ¹ ,	relating to removal and detention, ¹ with the High Court’s decision in Albert v. Manheim ¹ , the plaintiff	with the High Court’s decision in Albert v. Manheim, ¹ the plaintiff

- Footnotes end with a point

Ex: 1. Georges III was King of Great Britain and Ireland from 1760 to 1801.

EX: 1. JONH JACK, MAURICE STEINZ, The French Revolution: end of the Monarchy in France, (2nd edn, University Press 2009).

- Use of Idem, *Ibidem

- Ibidem:

When on the same page, you make a reference to the same author and the same way as the previous note, you have to use the locution ‘ibidem’ provided whether consecutive notes.

Ex:

1 Robert Taylor, Principles of Torts and Rights (Rightex 2009) 87.

2 Ibidem, 556-59

3 Ibid.

- Idem

The use of the locution Idem is deprecated in favor of Ibidem.

- The Use of References:

- Pages:
 - If one page: p. xx
 - If multiple pages following: pp. xx – xx
 - If multiple pages separated: pp. xx, xx et xx.
- Footnote: p. xx footnote yy.
- Paragraph: p. xx par yy

- Please take in consideration theses abbreviations which can be used in footnotes:

V. References (instruction for book authors)

Books and articles should contain a bibliography.

Bibliography is held in alphabetical order by putting the name followed by first initial (not to mention page number) in accordance with the following example:

- Robert Taylor, Principles of Torts and Rights (Rightex 2009)
- PAUL ULLEN, The Spanish Revolution, (UniversityPress 2012).

When the book has several authors, the bibliography is held in alphabetical order putting, the first author's name, and for the following authors, the initial of the first name and the name of the author (not to mention number page) in accordance with the following example:

- JONH JACK, MAURICE STEINZ, The French Revolution: end of the Monarchy in France, (2nd edn, UniversityPress 2009).

The bibliography will be structured according to whether they are paper or digital documents and according to their natures.

The bibliography will contain a section sitography gathering all sites used for the text.

You will be told the date of access.

- JENNIFER HOU, 'Intra-Agency Coordination' (Harvard Law Review, 10 Dec 2012)

If the language of the documents is not Frenchm, please to report between bracketed and italicized the language.

- F. BELLO, El derecho civil 1, Edicion Derecho positivo, 2005, p. 21. [spanish]

VI. The Use of Graphics Files and Other Documents

- Graphics and tables must to be cited in the order of apparition in the text.
- The titles of graphics and tables should be placed at the top thereof and the sources must be below.
- The graphics must be read in black and white. Thank you not use gradients. Photos must be of excellent quality to be legible and readable in black and white.
- For safety reasons and printing, please provide your graphics or photos sources in a separate folder in high definition.
- If you use a photo, please make sure that you are the owner or that it is free of rights. We ask you to provide us a document in which the author certifies that it does indeed have the rights to the uploaded files or that this document is copyright free.
- If you use a picture, it must be of very high level quality in order to be visible in a printed journal. A JPEG file with high level pixel is required.
- Please provide the figures or graphics in a separate file.
- The quality of your graphics/figures affects the readability.

VII. The Use of Abbreviations and Acronyms

Abbreviations

Define abbreviations that are not standard in law and political science in brackets at their first mention. Ensure consistency of abbreviations throughout the article. Example: Freedom of Information Act (FOIA).

Acronym

All acronyms of organizations, Journals, etc., should be without a full stop after each letter.

Correct	False
RLLP	R.L.L.P.
CLR	C.L.R.
USC	U.S.C.
UN	U.N.
OECD	O.E.C.D.

VII. The Use of Tables/Spreadsheet

- Tables should not be photo files, but must be editable. Thank you for using conventional spreadsheet functions
- If possible, thank you for providing a table which can be read horizontally rather than vertically.

Part 2 – How to send your work on the platform

As you know, we launched our online publishing site. It is available here: <http://ojs.imodev.org>

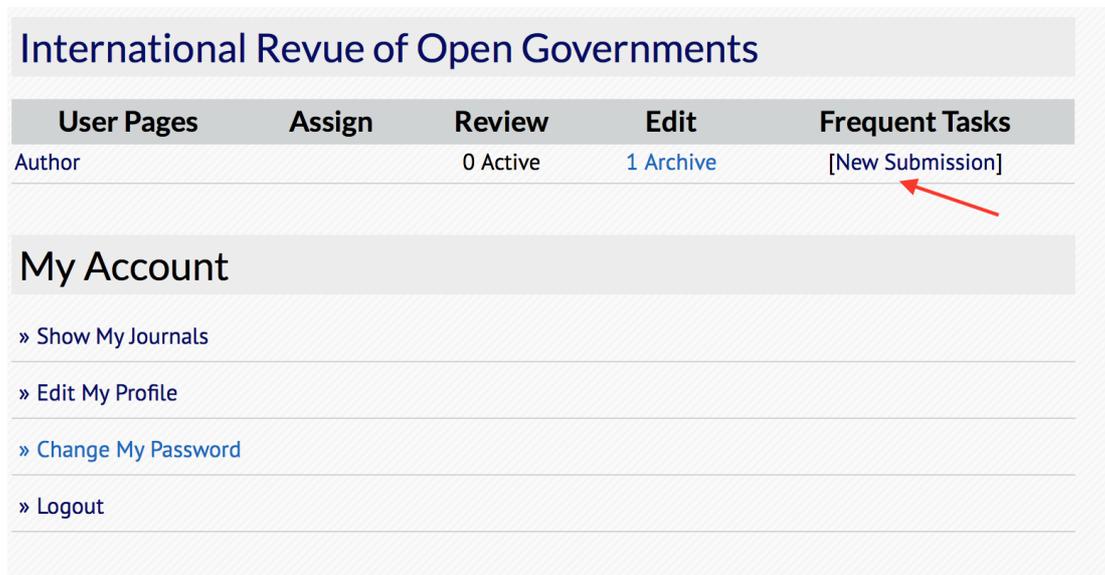

To provide you the best experience in the process, we use the best software in the area: based on free software "OpenJournalSystems", the website can reproduce the full cycle of publication of a scientific article and provide you a full OAI integration for your work. It will value your research work.

I. If you are already registered on the website (pre-activated account)

Why are these steps so important? Because your article will be indexed by some robots in the internet. If your account has been already activated on the website, it might be that you are lucky: the process will be easier for you.

1. First and foremost: to register and submit your articles: please visit the website at the address displayed bellow.
 - To register your article in International Journal of Open Government, please click here: <http://ojs.imodev.org/index.php?journal=RIGO>
 - Then enter your personal login and the previous provided password
2. Upon to connect on your account with your personal codes, click on the button [New Submission].

Once this operation performed, this page should be displayed. Please click on New Submission to start to process. (is not it easy?)

International Revue of Open Governments

User Pages	Assign	Review	Edit	Frequent Tasks
Author		0 Active	1 Archive	[New Submission]

My Account

- » Show My Journals
- » Edit My Profile
- » Change My Password
- » Logout

3. Please follow the instructions in 5 steps

Why are these steps so important? Because your article will be indexed by some robots in the Internet. Some of them are well-known by the public (Google, Yahoo, Bing, Google Scholar...), some of them are less known but will provide you a high-visibility by respecting the Dublin-core and the OAI (Robots such as the ones use by some very well-known library such as the BNF in France). By respecting these steps, your article will be easier to find by professors, researchers, students, across the world in the libraries data-base. In others words, the better you respect these steps, the better your article will be referenced in the Internet, and the better your work will be "top ranked".

III. Questions and assistance

In some very rare cases, you will be automatically disconnected. Don't be worry about that, just try to reconnect you a new twice. It's not an Act of God, but the consequences of an anormal period of inactivity or a very high secure level in your browser.

The articles have to been provided with an abstract and 5 keys words at least.

Your password can be easily managed in your account profile. In case of lost, please contact the webmaster of the website.

Please make sure to choose the good language when you send your work. In case of mistakes, we are able to modify it, but it would be easier for us as for you to directly have the good language selected.

If you are looking for a particular assistance, please to contact Quentin at quentin.sgard@imodev.org in French or English, by describing the mistake. We try to provide a 48 hours' solutions at least.
